If you're like me you hear the words "summer camp" and you think midnight showings of "Rocky Horror" have returned or Lady Gaga is touring again.

Nope. But there is something happening this summer that's so fabulous it might as well be high camp: Modeling Camp Miami is June 26-29 at the Alexander All Suite Oceanfront Resort.

The four-day boot camp with workshops (posing tips, runway coaching, makeup, casting advice) is for teenage girls and culminates in a photo shoot and fashion show.

Guests conducting seminars include professional model Lisa Nargi from season four of "Project Runway" (she was winner Christian Siriano's model) and Anchal Joseph from season seven of "America's Next Top Model," according to founder and owner Heather Cole.

Modeling Camp Miami costs $999 and includes lunch each day; photo shoot with makeup and hair; a portfolio book with pictures and a camp T-shirt. Hotel fees are not included. Out-of-towners can receive a discounted rate from the Alexander.

For more information, visit ModelingCamp.com or call 888-757-5575.
